High-quality audio and picture display. Satellite TV transmits high-quality digital data with the use of MPEG-2 or MPEG-4 compression. MPEG-4 is also known for providing high-definition video streams to computers, cellular phones and PDAs or personal digital assistants. Think crisp and clear and you have Satellite TV.

* Access to hundreds of channels worldwide. Satellite TV provides line-up of shows from both turnaround channels like HBO, ESPN and CNN as well as from numerous local channels like ABC, CBS, Fox, NBC and PBS.

The ability to receive and send broadcast signals using satellite technology increases the possibilities of gaining access to channels from other countries that utilize similar technology for broadcasting. So you are not restricted to the channels on cable networks

Satellite television will give you access to just about every type of channel you could hope for. You will enjoy numerous channels that are packed with comedy and drama; you can relax whilst watching a wide selection of sports channels covering every type of sport you could hope for. You'll be kept abreast of what's happening in the world with a range of news channels that cover both national and international news; and you can enjoy the latest blockbusters with a wide choice of movie channels.

The kids will also be delighted with satellite television. They can enjoy the entertainment value of a wide choice of kid's channels, from cartoon and comedy to drama and movies. From Disney and Nickelodeon to Cartoon Network and Fox Kids, the choice is endless, which means that on weekends and during holidays your kids will never be short of things to watch. Your kids will also enjoy having access to a wide selection of informational channels that provide both interesting and educational programming. Channels such as Discovery Science, National Geographic and Animal Planet can help your kids to broaden their horizons as well as provide valuable information to help with their education.

And let's not forget the incredible choice of music channels – a delight for both adults and kids. You can enjoy listening to all sorts of music, from retro or classical to pop and rock. So, as you can see your satellite television system will enable the whole family to enjoy enhanced entertainment and information.

Satellite TV is available throughout continental United States of America, so regardless of where you live, you are guaranteed quality reception and nice programming channels. And talking about programming channels, no subscription service can match the awesome entertaining channels at the disposal of satellite TV operators. You will be surprised that the least package carries as much as 500 different channels that cover all areas of human interests-movies, music, news, sports, religion, etc- and you have the option of upgrading these if you are still thirsty for more!

In reality, there are several attractive deals and offers you can choose from, and none of them are beyond the reach of the average working class person. The rapid growth of the internet is largely responsible for the modest fees charged by satellite TV operators, and as a proof of this, a single enquiry on satellite TV offers any search engine for instance can return results as high as a 100,000.
